St. Louis Advertisement. From the Newspaper Advertising Agency of W. 8 SWYMMER, No. 14 Second street, St. Louis, Mo Rg-Coustmption and the Discases of the Throat AND LUNGS TREATED BY THE INHALATION OF MEDICATED AND LUNGS TREATED BY THE INHALATION OF MEDICATED TO THE ADDITION OF MEDICATED AND LUNGS TREATED BY THE INHALATION OF MEDICATED AND LUNGS TREATED BY THE INHALATION OF MEDICATED AND THE INHALATION O St. Louis, where he intends permanently to establish him self.

There is probably no class of diseases which are so wide spread in their nature and so terrible in their results as the diseases of the throat and lungs. It, therefore, becomes a matter of earnest solicitude to the profession to knowed there be any means whereby those diseases can be controlled and atheliorated.

Dr. R. Hunter and myself have made these diseases our own peculiar study for several years, and we have found that the only means whereby these diseases can be reached is by direct local application, or the prescribing of medicines which are breathed into the lungs in the form of vapor, and are consequently brought in contact with the whole internal surface of the lungs. The success of our treatment has fully sustained the theory.

Persons at a distance, sending a full description of their case, will receive treatment according to their symptoms.

Paints, Dye Stuffs, Oils, Paroquet Mineral Water. T. E. JENKINS & CO., Druggists and Manufacturin Chemists,

HAVE made arrangements with the proprietors of PAROQUET SPRINGS, for the sole privilege of taking from the Springs this celebrated Mineral Water. It is put up in glass immediately after it is taken from the Spring, where its freshness of flavor preserved, enabling it to be kept for any length of time without losing its medical properties. it to be kept for any length of time without losing its medical properties.

It is also ærated and bottled, giving it a sparkling character and an improved flavor, without altering in any degree its medical virtue. This water is considered, by these who have used it, second to no Sulpher Salme Mimeral Water in the world. It is especially useful in Dyseps a and sympathetic derangement arising from weakness of one of the stomach. It is a gentle apperant and may be substituted with great advantage for saratoga and other such mineral waters. The presence of Iodine Compounds renders it eminently useful in Scrotulous complaints, in which respectit differs from most other mineral waters, and thus recommends itself as a natural reactly for many varieties of obstinate and distressing diseases.

The principal constituents of the water, are Soda, Magnesia, and Line Saits, with Iodine Compounds. A minute analysis will be published in a few days. Testimo mials of its virtues will furnished by T. E. JENKINS & CO.,

Sold wholesale or retail in glass, simple or ærated, by Druggists generally. A liberal discount made to Druggists and others who sell mineral waters.

OUR design is that of the Female High School, having its number of pupils limited to twenty five, in order to furnish those domestic comforts and enjoyments which cannot possibly be afforded by large Schools. The internal regulations are maintained on the principle of delegated parental authority; and our long experience assures us that this principle, clearly understood and faithfully carried out, secures all the ends of good order and cheerful aconiescence in all school duties. arried out, secures all the ends of good order and cheerui acquiescence in all school duties.

The regular course of study is such as the times require of all those who would enjoy the benefits of a liberal and inished education. Masters of the first celebrity are employed in the departments of French and Music, to which special attention is directed.

The scholastic year consists of two terms of five months each, without intermission, exceept Chr stmas week.

The first term commences with Sep-ember and closes with January, and the second term commences with February and closes with June.

Fereign Influence. "Above all, we ought to drive from our shore foreign influence, and cherish exclusive America feelings. Foreign influence has been in every age the curse of Republics. The above is attributed by Know Nothing and The above is attributed by Know Nothing and Abelition papers to James Buchanan. We think it very likely that Mr. Buchanan may be the author of it. It is a very patriotic sentiment, and Mr. Buchanan has been uttering patriotic sentiment. The only essential difference between the friends of Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Fillmore, on the slavery issue, in this State, and so far as my knowledge extends in other States, is this: that most of Mr. Fillmore's friends are opposed to that portion of the ments during the whole of his useful and illustrious life. "Foreign influence" and "foreigners" are two different things. British abolitionism constitutes the only "foreign influence" now existing in this country, and in that the Black Republican and Know Nothing parties are fully steeped. There is more true Americanism in one Democratic German or Irishman, than in the whole Abolition and Know Nothing crew, from N. P. Banks down to George D. Prentice.

Tippecanoe Battle Ground.

The great Democratic rally in Indiana, upo the Battle Ground of Tippecanoe, on next Wednesday and Thursday, 3d and 4th of September, is going to be one of the grandest demonstrations that has ever taken place in the West. Every State in the West will pour out its number of delegates, and every county in Indiana and Illinois will send out its fifties, its hundreds, or its thousands. Kentucky will have a large delegation of the property of the property of the great divisions of party in Kentucky, whether the claims and principles asserted by the anti-slavery party under the lead of Fremont, are either just or constitutional?

Need I inquire of the people of Kentucky, the sole contest on these issues has been, whether Mr. Fremont, and in every discussion before the people of Kentucky, the sole contest on these issues has been, whether Mr. Fillmore or Mr. Buchanan be the firmer or more reliable champion of the constitutional rights of the state of Kentucky, whether the claims and principles asserted by the anti-slavery party under the lead of Fremont, and in every discussion before the people of Kentucky, the sole contest on these issues has been, whether Mr. Fillmore or Mr. Buchanan be the firmer or more reliable champion of the constitutional rights of the state of Kentucky, whether the claims and principles asserted by the anti-slavery discussion for the very discussion before the people of Kentucky, the very discussion before the people of Kentucky, the very discussion before the people of Kentucky, whether Mr. Fillmore or Mr. Buchanan be the firmer or more reliable champion of the constitutional rights of the state of Kentucky, whether the claims and principles asserted by the anti-slavery discussion for the very discussion before the people of Kentucky, the very discussion before the people of Kentuck the Battle Ground of Tippecanoe, on next Wedthousands. Kentucky will have a large delegation in attendance, among whom will be the Hon. John C. Breckinridge, Col. Wm. Preston, Jas. B. Clay, Col. C. C. Rogers, R. W. Woolly, Col. W. J. Heady, and others.

The Know Nothings of the South have ly state some of the most glaring, unjust and unconstitutional attacks upon the equal rights of the slave States. It is well known that Kentucky has platform on which he stands, to side with the Black Republicans against the South. The Kansas-Nebraska bill, involving the repeal of that odious restriction against the South—the Missouri Compromise—is the question in the canvass, and is the issue between the North and the South—the Missouri the issue between the North and the South—the Missouri to the Union, and none so likely to suffer and bleed by discord and disunion. Kentucky has a frontier of more than eight hundred miles separating her from the three free States, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. If I might even refer to that folly and madness which would impel this great, enlightened, free and religious people, to discrete the control of the confederacy more devotedly attached to the Union, and none so likely to suffer and bleed by discord and disunion. Kentucky has a peculiar interest and stake in this war upon slave-ry. The Cleveland Plaindealer says a steamer has just brought down from Lake Superior a North. er has just brought down from Lake Superior a thousand pounds of moss for Dr. Terry, of Detroit, who has been making experiments upon it that moss makes a beautiful white paper without any preparation of the raw material for the common paper mills. largest assemblages that ever took place in that region of Kentucky. We understand that his speech was a glorious effort of burning and fervid eloquence.

The Colonel also spoke in Wincester, on Monday last, to a large and enthusiastic audience. He has not yet recovered from the attack of sore throat with which he has been afflicted for a month past, and is yet very hoarse, but he will nevertheless soon start on a rapid tour through Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan, and will speak publicly agree in their anti-slavery creed. One wing of his political force declares that slavery is a sin, per se; that it is a violation of the inalicnable rights of man, and the laws of God; that there can be no valid title to slave property; and that it should be wiped out of the entire country. Another column of his friends maintain that they have the right to petition Congress for the abolition of slavery in any shape or form, and to have their petitions printed and circulated; that in the construction of fortifica-tions or public works in the slave States, no slave abor should be employed; that slavery should be abolished in the District of Columbia; that the fugi-tive slave law should be abolished as unconstitu-tional; and that the Federal Government should, in every attainable manner, announce its repugnance and hostility to African slavery. These are the positions taken by a considerable portion of the allies and confederates of Mr. Fremont, but his more wily and adroit party leaders announce that he plants himself on the principle that slavery shall not enter the territories, nor another slave State be dmitted into the Union.

It is most obvious that the drift and aim the of en tire party, in a greater or lesser degree, in a disguised or open manner, are to circumscribe the growth of the slave States, to cast odium on their institutions, and to weaken and ultimately destroy all titles to alave property.

The supporters of Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Buchanan so far as this ruling and paramount question is con-cerned, unite in maintaining, with various modifica-tions of opinion, that the federal government has no power over slavery in the States; that it either has not the power, or, it it has, that it should abhas not the power, or, it it has, that it should ab-stain from its exercise, in abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia, or legislating it into or out of reason. Let us, then, learn wisdom from ex-perience, and forever banish the fiend from our the territory; and that territories when legally claiming and constitutionally prepared for admission into the Union, shall be allowed to come in as

There is, then, one great overriding question to be decided by the approaching Presidential election, in which Mr. Fremont and his party on the one side, and Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Buchanan on the other, stake the contest

I do not intend now to embarrass the inquiry, as to how the people of Kentucky should cast their suffrages, as between Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Buchanan; reserve that matter for after investigation.

Both Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Buchanan occupy es

All of these great and respectable parties assert and maintain as principles of justice and the constitution, that territories of the Union are the common property of the people of all the States, it which they may freely and equally emigrate with their property, whether of slaves or cattle; that Congress has power, and should institute territorial governments, conferring equal rights on the people of all States, and when legally and constitutionally prepared for admission as States, that they should be received as equal sisters in the confederacy, with or without slavery, as the people may elect.

which now prevails in the south.

I do not mean to charge the people of the free States indiscriminately with the purpose of attacking the institutions of the slave States, or of waging these aggressions on slave property. But this is the main drift and aim of a large class of the aiders and confederates of the Fremont party. There is no doubt that they have sufficient potency in the free States to make the fugitive slave law a dead letter. They are strong enough to violate with impunity, the right of transit, secured to the citizens of all the States, so that a southerner cannot even take the maid or nurse of his wife and children. ough the free States, without being robbed of

I am one of the Old-Line Whig party, now disor-ganized, and without any candidates for office. My natural preferences and affinities founded on old ssociations, would be for Mr. Fillmore first, and next for Buchanan. I have a personal acquaintance with both, and during the whole of Mr. Van Bu

Both of the old parties now agree that the re extent only, as the economical wants of the country may demand, and that Congress may, in levying a luty on this or that article, exercise a wise discrim Both parties agree, that for national comnerce and defence only, Congress may and shall construct public works. Neither party now medicate the purpose of establishing a National Bank, and the Whig party despair of any change of the Constitution on the subject of the executive veto, a change in which I never concurred. The general und fundamental idea which, existed my support of change in which I hever concurred. The general and fundamental idea which gained my support of the Whig party, was the conviction that it was more peculiarly the advocate and representative of that rational liberty, which, while it accords to the cople every essential of freedom, should so curb e excess of Democracy as to maintain the rule of law and order, and the security of persons and property. I have thought that the Democratic par-ty was inclined to deprive the Federal Government of some of its essential and clearly defined powers, and particularly entrenching upon the just power and weight of the judicial department. I was fearful of its progress in throwing every office, and particularly the judiciary, into frequent popular elections. I was afraid that it was too greedy for unexation, too unscrupulous as to the means, and oo prone to intermeddle with the affairs of foreign

In the old Whig party I thought there was more udence and conservatism, but candor constrains e to say that, with some exceptions, our country, whether under Whig or Democratic rule, and m probably by the checks and balances of each, has attained and accomplished unparalleled greatness

I have stated that Mr. Fillmore had my entire confidence, and notwithstanding he has accepted the nomination of a new party with the declaration that "it alone, of all the political agencies now existing, is possessed of the power to silence the violent and disastrous agitation (meaning the slavery question) and restore harmony by its own example, moderation and forbearance," I still believe he would administer the government with wisdom and

But I must express my regret and disar admitted into the Union.

The substance of this usurpation of the North is, that they have the right, and will appropriate to themselves, to the exclusion of the South, all the territorial possessions of the Union. It is not my regret to find that so many gentlemen for whom I have, and yet entertain very high respect, and whose talents, worth, and statesmanship are of the very best grade, have joined the American organization. Without discussing unpleasant topics with many friends with whom I have been united socially and politically, and desirous of conciliation with many old comrades who in the hurry of party ebullition, have united with an order, which, as I believe is fast receding before public investigation, I will merely state some of its most prominent objections and errors.

I object to both its discipline and principles. As to its discipline, it commenced in the darkest secrecy, and the most stringent oath bound obligations. The national council has recommended to the State councils that their secrecy shall be abolished, subject, however, to the discretion of each State council, and so far as this region of the State of Kentucky is concerned, their party meetings, and action are as secret as from the beginning. They are still held together by the most solemn oaths, and united by a party discipline and government almost as stern as a military despotism. They have means of intercommunication, which enables the party to assemble and act with almost electric rapidity. They have cries of trouble, cries of danger, and cries of distress, which enable them to throw their columns of resistance or attack, unarmed or armed, in an instant, upon any point. This party array, must necessarily be called into requisition in the heat and fury of elections, and the opposition which it necessarily prushes, must convert elections into theaters of riot and bloodshed. It is a government of oath bound affiliated clubs, seeking to take possession of the Federal and State authorities.

A CANDID COMPESSION.—The Fremonters know very well that Fillmore is indirectly helping Barchanna in several Northern States. They are fully aware that if he were out of the way the entire North would be swept by the Fressoil candidate. At the same time, they are not ignorant that fillmore burits Buchanna at the South, and that revery electoral vota he may receive, will to that extent impair the chances of the Democratic Confliction—Indirectly—that the supporters of Fillmore are Fressoil, and that if he is withdrawn they will vote for Fremont.

Letter of Hon. Richard Hawes.

To a priend in pranklin county.

Paris, August 18, 1856.

Dear Sir: You inquire whether the Old-Line Whigs of Kentucky should vote for Fillmore, Buchanan or Fremont. I give you most candidly my own reflections and conclusions on some of the leading topics of the Presidential election.

There is no kind of cavil or dispute, that the great leading principle, involved in the contest, is the south? And if their losses by manumission on the Know-Nothing organization of the Know-Nothing organization.

pose of the anti-slavery movement, pose of the anti-slavery movement, the South in utter ruin and bankruptcy? Is any compensation proposed, or can any be offered to the South? And if their losses by manumission were fully paid, what is to be the disposition and fate of the three or four millions of the African race? Will the North receive and provide for them, or shall our white brethren of the South surrender their cotton, rice, and sugar plantations to the black race? Would the North have re-enacted in our fair and happy South, the history of Jamaica and St. Domingo?

St. Domingo?

St. Domingo?

St. Domingo?

St. Domingo?

The bad effect of the Know-Nothing on the back of the back of the foreigner and Catholic are now most palpably developed.

Instead of being a homogeneous people in the midst of our people, they are driven by those laws which ever govern persecution, into a compact mass and party, arrayed against their oppressors.

My sympathies and opinions are with the protestant, and the history of the old world inclines me to believe that republican freedom, is more likely to take root and flourish in protestent countries.—

That same history also teaches that an alliance be tween government and religion, is injurious to both, and tends to make both persecuting and tyranical. With a free constitution which necessarily includes freedom of speech, freedom of conscience and free press, I cannot harbor any fears of Catho > and his confederates not only entertain the danger-ous and obnoxious claims upon the subject of slave-ry, but in the Northern States are supported to a rge extent by the Know-Nothing organization. From all the lights and information which I have been able to gain, Mr. Fremont will in the present attitude of candidates, receive most probably, the votes of all the free States, with the exception of California, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New California, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York. His chances of getting the votes of the two latter, are by no means unpromising. With all the high and commanding claims of Mr. Fillmore, I have perceived no satisfactory evidence that he can get a solitary electoral vote in any one of the free States. His friends claims for him the State of New York, but since the fusion of the softs and hards, that is a very faint hope.

How does he stand in the slave States? It may be safely asserted that Mr. Buchanan will obtain all of them with the exception of Kentucky, Mary land and Delaware. From the demonstrations the August elections in Kentucky, it is most prob the August elections in Kentucky, it is most proba-ble that Air. Buchanan will carry our State, and it is most certoin that such will be the result, unless there be a well grounded hope of Mr. Fillmore's election, either by the people, or by throwing the election into Congress. The demonstrations of both the Whig Senators of Maryland, and others of that State, of high character and influence, would seem to render his encess in Maryland ways.

If the election should be thrown before Congress. as that body is now constituted, Mr. Fillmore can only carry Kentucky and Maryland. It appears to me, that the great mass of conser-I assume, then, as a stand point and a platform which 99 out 100 of our voters occupy, that the election of mr. Fremont would deeply disturb the fraternal concord of our people and States, that by it, the just rights of Kentucky and the other slave State is usually supported by Congress. It is an ultimate mode of choice, which in every point would be greatly injured and violated, and that the to party excitement, intrigues and convulsions, of which we are admonished by the past history of our

If my calculation, of the relative strength of the candidates be an approximation to the accuracy, can the friends of Mr. Fillmore hope or expect, that the supporters of either Mr. Fremont or Mr Buchanan, with their preponderating forces, would yield to him the office of President? The usual law of majorities, would in such cases impose upon the Fillmore members of Congress from Kentucky, the duty of voting at once for Mr. Buchanan. Unless they so acted, their conduct would be held as factions. I cannot believe that the members of Congress from these States would still adhere to Mr. Fillmore and refuse to elect a President, nor can I harbor the sup-position that they could support Mr. Fremont. Nor can I indulge the supposition that the friends of Mr. Fremont would surrender him, and cast their votes for Mr. Filmore. This would be an alliance and fusion of materials so heterogeneous, as would stamp the whole as undisguised intrigue and cor-ruption, and in that event, Mr. Fillmore's administration would be morally and politically pledged to anti-slavery.

In view of all these considerations, what does duty and patriotism demand of myself and those who affiliate with me in my opinions on the slavery question?

Instead of waging a war with each other, the friends of Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Buchanan should stand shoulder to shoulder, and endeavor, by all fair and honorable means, to prevent an election by Congress, which to both is full of danger, and to elect Mr. Buchanan, who is unquestionably the strongest candidate. For myself, these are the candidation which shall influence the candidate of the considerations which shall influence the candidate. considerations which shall influence my conduct, as predicated upon the facts of the case as I believe with the anti-slavery party, I would give him my support. The union of the friends of Fillmore and Buchanan upon the latter, would give him the en-tire South, and at the same time would in all probability secure to him a very large support in the North. I consider the struggle whether Kansas shall be a free or slave State, as the only debatable ground of quarrel between the North and South. The laws of nature fix the destiny of Nebraska, Minnesota, Oregon and Washington territories. No Utah, and New Mexico is not likely to have any attraction for Northern functions. The Kansas controversy should be adjusted by authorizing the citizens settled there in good faith, to frame such a republican constitution as may be acceptable to them, without the interference of either the North or the South which is a privile of compensation in the South, which is a principle of compremise in accordance with the plainest dictates of justice and accordance with the plainest dictates of justice and the constitution.

If the people of the free States are not satisfied to govern themselves, but would also claim to apportate to themselves the common property of the Union, and to regulate the domestic institutions and the property of the slave States, it is time that the people of Kentucky should prepare for such a sad emergency. I have, however, an abiding good faith that the practical good sense of the North, and her devotion to this great experiment of free and her devotion to this great experiment of free government, will incline her to treat her Southern sister States with equal justice, and leave them to work out according to their good pleasure, the great problem of African slavery.

Respectfully, ROMANTIC STORY-Another Female in Male Apparel.-Considerable excitement was created at Rookfish village, North Carolina, about eighteen months months ago by the mysterious disappearance of a young lady, who it was afterwards concluded was dead. She has since turned up in a very unexpected manner, as the following letter in the Fayetteville North Carolinian will show. The writer says:

A year and a half passed by. The occur-rence of Marinda's fate began to be obliterated from the mind; those friends who mourned for her had laid aside their weeds and had resigned condition, for some cause unnecessary to detail, and left her boarding-house while all beneath its roof were buried in profound slumber: and for fear of being seen by some one in the village, she took the path leading up the margin of the pond passing by the beach near its head, and thence brough the woods to the main road. She found erself at daylight some distance off, and determined, in order to conceal her identity, to doff the attire of a woman and assume that of seeing a farm house near by, a pair of pantaloons and some shirts hanging on the fence, she managed to secure them, and at once appropriated hem to her own use. In this disguise she travelled on to Bonnetsville. S. C., where she procured work as a boy, and diligently applied herself for several months without exciting the least suspicion as to her sex. Her associates were with the males of the village, and though she frequently went with the boys to the river to wash, she never could be induced to go in herself, always volunteering to watch the clothes while they were bathing.

Dr. S. A. Weaver has turned his attention for years to such diseases as Canker, Erysipelas, Scrofula; and we are happy to learn that his patient researches have resulted in great benefits to those afflicted with such diseases. The Canker and Salt Rheum Syrup, with the Crete, will be found the most certain and speed cure ever offered in this country. The reputation his medicine has acquired, the certainty of cure whenever it is used, induces us to urge upon all the necessity of paying particular attention to this subject.

I would call the attention of my friends and the publicating sancra; to the above letter, handed to me by Messra. W. B. & Co., extensive liquor merchants. It is well known by the Cincinnati public that several of my Safes, of different sizes, have stood, of late, every severe tests. Among others, I would refer to the fire at Mr. Scowill's druggist, that of Messra. Davie & Co., iron merchants and founders; that of Mr. Shillito. soap and candle factor; that of Messra. Davie & Co., iron merchants and founders; that of Mr. Shillito. soap and candle factor; that of Messra. Gureaud & Sarran, hquor and wide merchants. The Safes all came out victorious, although a surrounded by the most combustable material. Having acquired all the late improvements, I dare say that my Safes are inferior to none made this side the mountains. As to the outer appearance, I combine neatness with durability. Thankful for past favors, a continuation of patronage is kindly sollened.

There was little enshusiasm and scarce any emblematic display.

When the precession reached the wharf, the scene was very fine. The windows of every scene was very fine. The windows of every house froating the river, were filled with spectators. The sun was just setting, and tinting with his golden radiance, the houses and the far off hills of Kentucky. On the river were several flat-boats, with small field pieces on board, and many skiffs and row-boats plying hither and thither, and adding much to the interest of the scene.

A crowd of some ten or fiteen thousand persons, curious to see what was going on, occupied the wharf square, between Main street and Broad-way. PALBENO, K. T., Aug. 22d, 1856. The mail carrier from Lecompton and Lawrence has just come in, and reports that he saw Col. Titus at the latter place lying upon a bare floor, without the comfort of a matress or a pillow, and suffering extreme torture from several bullet wounds, which it appeared would terminate his life in a few hours; that notwithstanding his extreme condition, which should excite commisseration and sympathy in the stoutest hearts, he was rudely and harshly treated by ruthless and drunken desperadoes, who would, with fiend like relish, strike him with their feet, and tear clothes from him, and curse him, and spit tobacco juice upon him. That he was sickened by the horrifying sight, and left as soon as he found that any interposition would aggravate, if possible, the inhuman barbarity.

He reports that Lecompton is not taken; that

We heard last night that General Smith had sent out; three companies to protect the government property at Lecompton, and to afford a stronger guard to the prisoners; but that he refuses to take any measures to put down the disgress might not be able to carry in effect, by turbances in the country, and says the militia may fight it out among themselves. THIRTY-FIRST CONGRESS-EXTRA SESSION. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.

SENATE.-Mr. Crittenden asked leave to intro. duce a bill, of which he gave notice on Wednesday, to amend the act of 1854 organizing the territories of Nebraska and Kansas. He explained its various provisions and made some remarks on the general subject:

Mr. Crittenden said in the bill which he now introduced, he had inserted such schemes as he thought might entirely obviate the whole objec-tion to the bill. In the first place he proposed to transfer the whole legislative power conferred in it to be exercised by the Governor and Judges of that Territory. The laws which they enact are to be transmitted by the Secretary of the Territory or State. The proviso of the Army bill looked to Congress passing on the validity of Kansas laws. He repeated that Congress had der that they may be laid before Congress for der that they may be taid before Congress for approval or disapproval. This was according to the ancient form of territorial governments in their first stage. This was the government of Louisiana, Illinois, Indiana, Obio and Michigan,

Again Congress seemed to have forgotten or passed by the lessons of the fathers of the republic and they are now reaping the fruits of their action. He desired wherever the fathers of the republic and they are now reaping the fruits of the restriction. their action. He desired, wherever he could, always to walk in the ancient and tried ways. We tread safely when we pursue that course "super antiquias vias." The present condition of Kansss, seemed to him, demanded such a change of government as he proposed. In the first section of the bill he transferred the authority from the legislature to the Governor and Judges. In the second, he directed the Secretary of the Territory to transmit to the President whatever laws might be passed by this authority in order that they might be laid before Congress for revision or repeal if they think proper. The third is the same as Weller's but the fourth provided that at prosecutions of indictments for trea-son or other offences of merely political character now pending in any of the courts of Kansas shall cease and be dismissed, and every person who may at the passage of this act be imprison-

He was aware that this provision did not meet he approbation of the majority of the Senate. and proceeded to state the motives which induced him to offer it. The fifth section provided that the President should have authority to employ any part of the army which he may think pr in the territory to maintain the authority of the United States or laws in that territory; also to repel armed aggressions from without and withand suppress and drive out any bands of en who may appear in the territory to the terror of the inhabitants and the disturbance of the peace. It further provides that it shall be the luty of the President to use an armed military force to maintain the peace of the territory, sup-press insurrection, repel invasion, and protect ersons and property; also to endeavor, by whatever Constitutional means he may possess; to secure to all people of the United States who may choose to go into said territory, and especially those who desire to go thither with honest and peaceable purposes of obtaining permanent homes, their undoubted right of ingress and egress from

ed or held in custody under such charges be the territory.

Mr. Seward congratulated the country on the manner in which the House acted at last in this important crisis. There had been civil war in Kansas a year, and it could only be stopped by arresting unconstitutional usurpation in that Territory, and restoring to the people constitutional right to establish institutions of freedom. He was willing to talk about compromise when not only peace shall be given to Kansas but a pledge given in the Kansas Nebraska act shall be fulfilied, namely—that the citizens thereof shall have perfered liberty to establish freedom if they will. He had no doubt there would be peace there if the black flag of slavery were hoisted by the people of Kansas.

Mr. Cass said he approached the subject without any ebullition of feeling but with a solem-mity due to the crisis. What portion did Congress occupy before the country and the world? It was their duty to make the necessary appropriations for the support of the government.— This, their solemn constitutional duty, in one important point they have not done. This Senate and House agreed that it was necessary to provide for the army. Both Houses agreed upon every item belonging to the appropriation bill. Where then was the fault? It was that the House had annexed a provision having no relation to the subject appropriation, to which the Senate could not agree. He found fault with them among a proviso which he deemed unconstitutional, and cutting off supplies to force the Senate into an agreement to it.

It was proper for one house to affix a condition to a bill and send it to the other house for sanc-tion, but to persist in that course after the other house had by a large majority repeatedly declared it could not agree, was an act of revolution. The proviso was not sent to toe Senate for their free voluntary action. The proviso proposed to extend the authority of the President over all highways leading to Kansas. To-day it was the highways, to-morrow it might be byways. Con-gress had just as much right to require the Pres-ident to execute laws on one highway as another. This power was as effectual over the high-ways of Massachusetts as of Missouri. No man could be so blind as not to see that the establishment of a principle like this would lead to the overthrow of the government. If this is agreed o, the next thing it might be pressed as a conition for passing a Postoffice appropriation bill that all incendiary documents sent for the purpose of exciting southern slaves to insurrection should go free of pasage; or the repeal of the fugitive slave law might be insisted upon as an amendment to the general appropriation bills which it might lead.

Mr. Brodhead read an extract from the Congressional Globe to show that Mr. Seward's petiion was unconstitutional with that which he oc cupied at a previous session.

Straitorouse of old of recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Particular attention will be given to this disease, and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on, in many cases, by the destructive labits of inconsiderate youth, and excessive indulgence of the pasations, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unit for either business, or society, and causing premature old age.

His success in curing all those of the above difficulty, with the exception of a few, of the many hundred patients who have come under his care during the last thirty years of his practice enables him effectually to restore to health such cases as have been considered meurable. On the contrary, all those who from neglect or improper teatment, need only expect a train of symptoms to follow, the effect of which will end in their complete destruction.

Also, all those who are afflicted with any of the following diseases need not despair of being cured. Ergspelas, Serottia or Kings Evil, White Swellings, Cancer, Salt Rhettin or Tetter, Scald Head; in fact all diseases ansang from impurities of the blood.

Liver Complaint,
Oppression after eating,
Palpitation of the Heart,
Pain in the pit of the stomach, or towards the right side,
Sallowness of complexion,
Depression of spirits and irritability of temper, &c.
If a case of dyspepsia should be neglected, most serious effects may ensue, for it lays the foundation for, is the incipient cause of, and very frequently terminates in consumption I would impress upon the mind that to trifle with this disease, may be to sport with that reason which constitutes man super-eminent among animal beings, or to embitter existence by adding a consciousness of folly to the penalty of pain.
This medicine is prepared entirely from vegetable substances; the most delicate stomach can bear it conveniently, and it is given with perfect safety, in minute doses to the most tender infants, its properties being of a strengthening and invigorating nature. It is neatly put up in bottles, with ample directions for use.
The following testimonials from some well known and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, are fully corroborative of the tried efficacy of the Anti Dyspeptic Elixir.

Attetsation. We, having used William's Anti-Dyspectic Elixir with he most perfect satisfaction and success, take great plea-sure in recommending it to all persons suffering with Dys-spepia, as we are fully convinced of its most estimable malities in restoring the digestive powers, removing all ain and ungasiness, and imparing a healthy tone to the
